MAKE YOUR OWN MARK!

“Just make a mark and see where it takes you,”

– from The Dot by Peter Reynolds

Celebrate drawing and the artist in all of us by “Making Your Mark!” Friends, families, and schools throughout the country and abroad are invited to submit their two-dimensional art to be displayed in the Art Studio at The Eric Carle Museum during Draw On! 2010.

How it works

- Transform an 8.5” x 11” piece of card stock into an interesting shape. All shapes should be about 8-inches across to ensure a uniform size.
- Inspired by the words “Draw On,” embellish your shape: drawing, collaging, painting, writing, stamping, or using any other 2-dimensional medium onto cardstock.
- Artwork can be on one side or both sides.
- Artwork must be received by March 17, 2010 to be displayed in the windows in The Art Studio at The Museum during the drawing celebration, Draw On!, March 27th-April 10th.
- Photos of Draw On! events at The Carle, including this window display, will be on our website: www.carlemuseum.org after April 10, 2010.
- Submissions will not be returned.

Mail your art to The Carle*:

What is Draw On?

Draw On! is a community program started by The Aldrich Museum in Ridgefield, CT, which will celebrate its fifth year in 2010. Draw On! brings together people of all ages through something as simple as drawing, while also fostering new and imaginative ways to draw.

The goal behind Draw On! is to encourage an entire community of people and organizations, schools, artists, etc. to celebrate drawing and to discover drawing’s potential to encourage learning, communication and understanding.

For more information visit: www.DrawOn.org or contact Diana MacKenzie: dianam@carlemuseum.org

Draw On! is sponsored in part by The Aldrich Contemporary Art Museum, AT&T, HSBC, Weston Woods Studios, and by Brand Flakes For Breakfast www.brandflakesforbreakfast.com brought to you by the greatest agency in the land www.thegreatestagency.com
